The intent of this Declaration as amended is to change the course of history and correct what our forefathers could not. There is no reason for the federalists and anti-federalists to fight. As it was written within the Law of Nations, there was no reason for England and France to fight each other over something that should be shared. Our enemies are at our doorstep and it is time to set aside our differences and become allies to preserve the future of our children, and

The Government of The United States of America would like to take this time to express its gratitude towards the Great State of Minnesota and the Great State of Georgia for its recent actions that inspired this amended Declaration, and
